Brouwerij Smisje

Koningin Astridlaan 134, Assebroek-Brugge, 8310, Belgium

Brewery Description:

Johan Brandt, with a passion for excellent good beer, started this tiny artisanal brewery end of 1995. In the beginning he brewed only once a week with a capacity of 120 liters (1 barrel). By 1999 he started brewing twice a week with an increased capacity of 160 liters (1.5 barrels), meaning non stop brewing, bottling, washing bottles throughout the year. He is now looking for a bigger brewery where he can brew 700 liters (6 barrels) at a time and fill the bottles automatically. Johan Brandt, also a bee-keeper, started out with only one type of beer, a honey beer called 't Smisje. He now produces 6 permanent beers. For his fifth anniversary he introduced 'Vuuve' (Flemish for 'five'), a 5% strong wit beer.

Vuuve 5

■ Beer Collection
■ Keg Collection

The brewing process for Vuuve 5 starts n the morning when John Brandt crushes the malt and mixes it with warm water so the starch turns into sugar. Around Noon he separates the liquid from the wort. He brings this liquid to a boil, adds the hops, coriander, fresh organic orange peel and then lets everything cool down. Now the liquid is being pumped into a cylinderconical tank and the yeast is added. After a few days of primary fermentation Johan removes the yeast and lets the young beer rest for a few days before adding new yeast and candy sugar and filling the beer into bottles by hand. The secondary fermentation takes place in a warm room for one to two weeks and a few weeks later Vuuve is ready for consumption.

For Vuuve he uses 60% barley and 40% wheat malt, hops, coriander and fresh organic orange peel. Vuuve is fruity, spicy, citrusy and prickly on the palate with a long lingering finish of coriander and orange peel. Since Johan Brandt is an artisanal brewer and doesn't use any chemical products, every brew may be slightly different.

Wostyntje

■ Beer Collection
■ Keg Collection

Kent Goldings hops is added at the beginning of the boil while Challenger hops, dark candy sugar and the crushed mustard seeds are added after about 50 min. into the boil. The addition of light candy sugar and fresh top-fermenting yeast to the bottle starts the secondary fermentation in the bottle. After three more weeks Wostyntje is ready to become part of your dinner. Wostyntje has a unique bitterish finish, which stems from the use of "Torhout's" mustard seeds. A small glass of "Torhout Mustard" is attached to each magnum bottle to give everyone an opportunity to compare the notes of mustard in the beer with the original "Torhout Mustard".

Catherine the Great Imperial Stout

"Catherine the Great - Whoa! Very interesting. I think it wouldn't pass muster as "true to style" by any beer judge as the malt depth and roastiness and especially color are not there for an Imperial Stout. That said, though it had a delightful smokiness that melded well with roast that was there. Very enjoyable but hard to classify. ...."

- Ron Fischer of B. United International [Tasting Notes]

Product Details
Style	Belgian Style Imperial Stout
Alc./Vol.	10%
Malts	Barley, Cara, Chocolate, Roasted Malt, Oats
Hops	Goldings, Challenger, Magnum

Tasting Notes
Appearance	Very dark brownish red in color.
Aroma	Lots of yeast and dark fruit in the nose, like raisins, plums and dates. Some spiciness there as well, common to dark Belgian beers. A bit of smokiness and roasted malt, but the dark fruits dominate. A powerful enticing nose.
Flavor	A delightful smokiness melded with roasted flavors.

Finish	Aftertaste is strong and has spiciness and a touch of bitter chocolate as well.
